MIT Biomechatronics' Group Recruitment

March 17, 2018

75 Amherst Street
Cambridge, MA 02139

Dear Lindsey Reynolds,

I am applying for a research job or an internship at MIT Biomechatronics' Group because I am fascinated by its goals and achievements. I would be delighted to join your team to develop society and the world's technology. Every human deserves to live a full life and my dream is to make it possible and easily available. I believe I would make a strong candidate for MIT Biomechatronics' Group due to my educational background and personal goals.

I am currently a senior student at the University of Minnesota. I am seeking a full-time occupation to complete my OPT and work for the community's greater good. My mathematics education made me patient and hardworking, so I will make sure MIT Biomechatronics' Group benefits from working with me. I am highly motivated to grow professionally and to produce good results for your team and all the people.

MIT Biomechatronics' Group's goals represent The Future and I would like to be a part of it. Thank you for your time and considering my application. I look forward to hearing your opinion about my candidacy.

Sincerely,

Yana Garipova
